UN Seeks Russ, U.S. Agreement On Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Diplomats are hopeful that the Soviet Union and the United States can agree on the text of a resolution by which the U.N. Security Council could call unanimously for cease-fire and withdrawal in the Middle East war.

The informants said Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko and U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg were pledged to negotiate in advance of today's meetings.

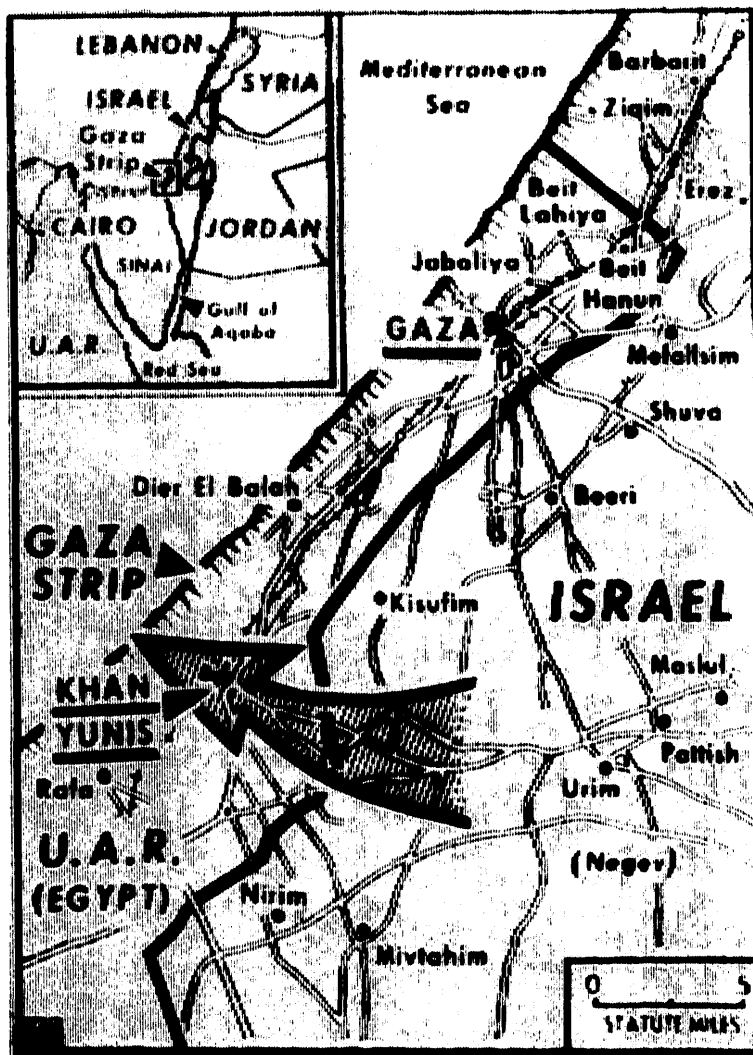

They said the two had promised to seek instructions from their governments that might enable them to settle the remaining issue—the point to which the fighting forces should withdraw.

The two big powers were still deadlocked when the council adjourned Monday night after an hour's public debate and 11 hours' private consultations on what to do about the fighting.

The Russians wanted the resolution to indicate only that the forces should withdraw to the positions they held before the fighting.

The Americans wanted to be able to interpret it as meaning also that the Egyptians should withdraw from the Strait of Tiran where they were blockading Israeli shipping.

The Americans were backing the Israelis' case for lifting the blockade and the Russians were backing Egyptian insistence on keeping it.

Russians' Charge U.S., Britain Aid Israel Is Denied

BULLETIN

Israeli forces swept within 90 miles of the Suez Canal today in the Near East war and three Arab countries — Kuwait, Iraq and Algeria — cut off sale of oil to the United States and Britain.

Egypt closed the Suez Canal today and Israel carried the Middle East war, by land or air, into four neighboring countries.

The Israelis struck deeper into Egypt's Sinai Desert — on the road to Suez — Israel followed in 1956 — and invaded Jordan, attacked on the Syrian front and bombed an Iraqi airfield.

Iraq and Kuwait cut off delivery of oil to the West after Egypt's high command asserted that U.S. and British naval planes joined the war in support of Israel.

The charge was promptly denied in Britain and the United States, which have declared non-belligerence in the day-old conflict.

Russia Backs Arabs

The Soviet Union, backing the Arabs, charged that Israel started the war.

Israel, seemingly with air superiority over the fronts, claimed the destruction of at least 374 Arab planes. Israel admitted losing 19 planes, while the Arab commands claimed 183 were shot down.

The holy city of Jerusalem became a battleground as Israeli and Jordanian troops battled savagely in the streets. The Israeli army said 500 persons have been wounded in Israel's sector of the divided city and countless buildings and homes have been hit.

In the midst of the battle, Prime Minister Levi Eshkol of Israel sent an appeal to Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, charging that Egypt started the war and urging Kosygin join "in an effort to secure peace based on the independence and territorial integrity of all nations."

An indication of Israel's air superiority came from a Jordanian communiqué in Amman. It said there was "a huge umbrella of Israeli aircraft over the whole Jordanian front."

U.S. Offices Raided
As the war intensified, mobs attacked U.S. facilities in Damascus and Baghdad and the consulate in Egypt's Alexandria.

In addition to striking deep into the northern Sinai Desert, the Israeli army announced the virtual occupation of the Gaza Strip on the Mediterranean with the capture of the city of Gaza, Egyptian administrative headquarters.

The strip had been bypassed by Israeli forces striking south and west and Radio Israel called on the strip's residents to surrender. Most of the strip's residents are Arab refugees from the Israeli-Arab war of 1948.

1956 War Route
More than 20 miles west of the strip, the Israeli army fanned out from the captured key coastal town of El Arish in the Sinai Peninsula and seized Bir Lachman to the southeast, an army announcement in Tel Aviv said.

The Israeli column at El Arish was in a position to strike due west for Port Said, at the Mediterranean entrance to the Suez Canal. This is one of the major routes followed by the Israeli army in overrunning the Sinai Desert in 1956.

Cairo radio said the canal, one of the world's most vital waterways, had been closed because of Israeli attacks on ships in the canal.

Oil Flow Stops
Baghdad radio said Iraq President Abdel Rahman Aref had stopped delivery of his country's oil to the West because of "the policy of American and British."

His son, Kelly C. Johnson, is presently serving with the U.S. Air Force at Port Austin, Mich., as a radar technician.

Johnson was the first sheriff to serve in Delta County's new hall, moving into the new facility in December, 1965.

Finman, 51, is a native of Escanaba and a 1934 graduate of Escanaba High School. He joined the Escanaba police department as a patrolman May 8, 1937, and was promoted to sergeant in March, 1950.

In 1954, he was promoted to Captain and on Aug. 16, 1956, was named Chief of Police.

Finman and his wife, Lillian, reside at 712 S. 15th St. Their two sons, Gary and Wayne, are both graduates of Escanaba High School and Northern Michigan University and are teaching school in Lower Michigan.

U.S. Jets Probe Deep Into North

SAIGON (AP) — American jets probed deep into the fortified heartland of North Vietnam Monday, bombing rail lines into Hanoi and drawing out a swarm of Communist Mig interceptors. Three of the MIGs were reported shot down.

Although little ground fighting was reported, the airmen carried the war to the Communist with 113 strike missions over North Vietnam and five raids by giant B52 bombers against targets in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced that Red ground gunners shot down a Navy Crusader jet over North Vietnam, the 572nd U.S. combat plane lost above the 17th Parallel. The pilot was missing.

Raiders Opposed
The Communists sent up 20 or more swept-wing MIG21s and MIG17s in an unsuccessful attempt to disrupt the raids on the rail line leading north from Hanoi to the industrial complex of Thai Nguyen.

Within 20 minutes American Phantom jet pilots brought three MIG17s down. A spokesman said that flights of the Red fighters were buzzing all over the sky and it was impossible to determine how many were in the air.

Dogfights have now accounted for 77 MIGs downed while 20 U.S. planes have been shot down.

Trail Bombed
The big B52s, each carrying 60,000 pounds of bombs, hit the western borders of South Vietnam, along routes where the Ho Chi Minh trail disgorges infiltrators into jungle hideouts. Two of the raids were in the northern sector, two in the central highlands and one along the Cambodian frontier west of Saigon.

Explosions and fire, which witnesses said were set off by a Viet Cong mortar shell, wrought heavy damage at English airfield, a forward supply base of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. The fire, punctuated by detonation of ammunition stores, raged nearly eight hours.

U.S. military officials said two Americans were killed, 34 were wounded and South Vietnamese forces suffered an undetermined number of injured at the base.

in coastal Binh Dinh Province about 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

They said ammunition supplies estimated to be worth $2.5 million were lost, along with 440,000 gallons of petroleum products. Several helicopters and light planes were reported damaged. One officer said, however, the loss was "just an inconvenience" that would not hamper military activity in the area.

South of the demilitarized zone, Communist troops made several probes against U.S. Marine positions but no significant fighting was reported.

HANCOCK (AP) — Pastor Philip E. Johnson, 35, a native of Hancock, was fatally injured in an automobile accident Sunday in Eastern Nigeria where he was a pastor of the Apostolic Lutheran Church.

News of the death was received Sunday by his father-in-law, Pastor Andrew Mickelson of Hancock.

Soviet Backs Arabs But Is For War End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official U.S. sources say despite Moscow's public condemnation of Israel and avowed support of the Arabs, the Soviets apparently want a quick end to the Middle East war.

This was about the brightest spot today in an otherwise dark picture as the U.S. government pushed for a speedy cease-fire after it eased away from one official's use of the term neutral and wound up as a self-proclaimed non-belligerent.

The official sources said their rating of Kremlin intentions came from behind-the-scenes discussions with Soviet diplomats and others at the U.N. Security Council over rival proposals for a cease-fire in the day-old conflict.

The assessment eased fears the Middle East flames would quickly ignite a major power conflagration. But the Arab-Israeli firefight itself posed serious problems for the United States.

President Johnson was expected to discuss them with Democratic leaders and with his secretaries of state and defense at scheduled meetings today.

Military reports reaching the administration indicated Israeli forces bested the Arabs in the first day.

Aggressor Not Identified
Both the White House and the State Department said they did not know who launched the attack and that it could take a long time, if ever, to determine which side was the aggressor. It

Johnson Resigns, Finman New Sheriff

Clarence A. (Cully) Johnson, Sheriff of Delta County, today formally submitted his resignation.

Escanaba Police Chief Harold O. Finman was immediately appointed to succeed Johnson by a panel composed of County Clerk William E. Butler, Probate Judge Marie Peters and Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas Chapek.

Johnson has been in ill health for the past 18 months, taking a leave of absence this year, and he resigned on the advice of physicians at the several medical institutions where he has been undergoing treatment.

He is expected to leave immediately for Chicago for further treatment and plans to return to the Upper Peninsula after convalescence.

There was no successor to Johnson immediately named.

Johnson joined the Delta County Sheriff's Dept. in 1916 as a deputy under the late Sheriff William E. Miron. He was promoted to Undersheriff in 1951 and in 1956 was elected Sheriff, leading the Delta County Democratic ticket.

He was reelected again in 1958, 1960, 1962 and 1964. In both 1962 and in 1964 he was unopposed.

Johnson served with the 141st Infantry, 36th Division, with the 5th U.S. Army in Italy, and subsequently, with the Western Flying Command, U.S. Air Force, in the southwestern United States. He has been a member of the Disabled American Veterans, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the AMVETS.

His son, Kelly C. Johnson, is presently serving with the U.S. Air Force at Port Austin, Mich., as a radar technician.

Johnson was the first sheriff to serve in Delta County's new hall, moving into the new facility in December, 1965.

on all fronts, a Jordanian claim that Israeli penetration of Jordan had been repulsed, and a Syrian claim to have occupied an Israeli settlement which the Israelis said they recaptured.

Arabs 'Beaten'
Israel: Prime Minister Levi Eshkol told a night session of Parliament that Israel had inflicted a "severe beating" on the forces of Egypt, Syria and Jordan.

The Israelis announced that they had captured the key strategic town of El Arish in the Sinai Peninsula. El Arish was a vital objective of the Israelis in their 1956 drive on Suez.

Chief of staff, Gen. Haim Barak said one Israeli column, after reaching El Arish, pushed on to Abu Agheh, another strategic point. In the Gaza Strip, fighting to the north of that sector, Israeli troops were reported fighting on the outskirts of the ancient town of Gaza.

Sinai Campaign
Barak said other Israeli columns had smashed their way into the center and southern sectors of the Sinai Desert.

Damascus radio announced that Syrian forces entered the war at dawn, attacking Israeli positions along the 47-mile border between Israel and Syria. The Syrians claimed occupation of Sinaia Yashur, a frontier farm commune in Galilee, but an Israeli spokesman said a heavy armed attack was driven off after an hour and a half.

The Israeli spokesman said Syrian guns were shelling agricultural settlements along virtually the entire border. A spokesman said Israeli artillery and solidation and counseling services currently being offered in Oakland County under an Office of Economic Opportunity grant.

Main purpose of the service is to assist persons having financial difficulties to budget their resources through professional counseling and to make arrangements with creditors to withhold legal action, in order that debt payment plans can be established for the client. One of the main causes of marital difficulty is mismanagement of finances, Horner stated.

Through the services now being offered, many marriages have been saved and homes kept intact. A major feature of the program involves the counseling and management and weekly budgeting of earnings to allow families to live on a current financial basis, in addition to repaying old debts. The CAP agency will make a study of the local situation in the tri-county area to determine the feasibility of requesting funds for a similar program.

air force jets hit back at the Syrian positions.

Caught On Ground

Mordechai Hod, commander of the Israeli air force, told newsmen Monday night his squadrons had destroyed 374 Arab planes as "certain" and 34 as "probables." Israeli losses were given as 19 planes with 8 pilots known killed and 11 missing, some of them known captured.

Rabin hailed the air results as "achievements without precedent" and claimed they gave Israel air superiority over the entire battle area. The Israeli claims indicated they caught most of the planes on the ground.

Arab claims pictured mass destruction of Israel's aircraft. Egypt claimed 95 Israeli planes downed, Jordan claimed 23, Syria 52 and Lebanon 2. Additional kills were claimed today.

"Feroocious Battles"

Al Ahran, the semi-official Cairo newspaper, said Egyptian and Israeli forces were locked throughout the night in "ferocious" battles on all fronts in the Sinai Desert.

"Our forces are trying to absorb the enemy's attacking strength and to destroy it so that they can launch the second stage of their battle plan," Al Ahran said.

An official Egyptian report from the Sinai front said Egyptian bombers raided staging areas used by the Israelis for offensives against the Gaza Strip. The high command also announced Egyptian artillery shelled a position in southern Israel.

Trenary Asks 5 Mill Boost For Schools

TRENNARY — The annual school board election for the Mathias Township District will be held Monday.

Toivo J. Aho, secretary, announced that only one nominating petition was filed. Donald Sandstrom will run unopposed for the four year trustee office. The incumbent, Arnold Hill, is not seeking reelection.

A special proposal to increase the school tax millage by five mills for the three-year period, 1967 to 1969, will also be on the ballot.

The increase is being requested by the school board for general operating expenses and was necessitated by the loss of $110,000 in district valuation by the removal of farm personal tax, the Board said. Decreasing enrollment and rising costs in operating also have been a major factor in making the request.

Ask Million In Ramming

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., was sued for $1 million in U.S. District Court here Monday by Tomlinson Fleet Corp. in the sinking of the Sylvania, owned by Tomlinson, at Port Huron, Mich., last Thursday.

Canada Steamship owns the Renvoyle which rammed the Sylvania while trying to turn in the river. The Sylvania, a self-unlader, was moored at a dock discharging limestone.

Tomlinson's suit charges 14 faults in operation of the Renvoyle, alleging incompetence and recklessness on the part of the ship's officers and unseaworthiness on the part of the ship.

Meanwhile, working delicately at Port Huron to prevent the sunken freighter from plunging into deeper water, workmen today were unloading the vessel to begin salvage operations.

The workmen's task was complicated because the Sylvania was resting on a narrow ledge 22½ feet under water. One wrong move could plunge her into the main, 35-foot deep channel, blocking it to other vessels.

First, workmen have to remove 9,000 tons of limestone from her hold. Then the gash in her side will be patched so she can be pumped out and refloated, said a spokesman for Tomlinson.

POWERS — Teachers of the Powers-Spalding school district have ratified a new master contract with the Board of Education calling for raises of $400 per year plus a $10 per month payment toward insurance costs.

Supt. Jerome Albright said individual contracts for the 1967-68 school year have been mailed to the teachers of the system.

The new master contract provides an increase in starting salary for teachers with bachelor's degrees from $5,000 to $5,400. Increments of $200 for each year's experience up to 10 years make a maximum of $7,400.

Master's degree holders in the system will receive $300 more than teachers with bachelor's degree and comparable experience.

The $10 per month allowance for insurance is the first such payment by the school district for that purpose. Teachers will be allowed four options under Michigan Education Association plans (salary protection, tax sheltered annuities, life insurance or hospitalization) to which to apply the $10.

Albright said he still needs four elementary teachers for the system next year.

The White House did not have a bathtub until 1891.

Guard Called To Subdue Band

CANJILON, N.M. (AP) — National Guardsmen, bolstered by light tanks, machine guns and nearly 80 law officers, trudged through hills of northern New Mexico today in search of an armed band of men who shot up a rural courthouse.

The fugitives were identified by State Police Chief Joe Black as Reyes Lopez Tijerina and his followers in a long-threatening militant move to press claims to old Spanish land grant tracts.

Black said 30 to 40 men led by Tijerina were in the forested hills around Canjilon.

They fled Monday after shooting their way into the Rio Arriba County courthouse at Tierra Amarilla, about 15 miles north of Canjilon. Two officers were shot and wounded, about 20 persons were held hostage for two hours and a district judge barricaded himself in the court chambers.

Chief Black and Maj. Gen. John P. Jolly, commanding about 450 Guardsmen, set up headquarters in Canjilon and sent their men into the forest and small rural communities in search of the Tijerina force.

Two M42 tanks were brought in. A half dozen trucks and more than 20 Jeeps were used in the search.

About 40 persons, many of them children, were taken into custody in the Canjilon area Monday night and placed under guard at their homes.

U.N. Fails Again

Perhaps if we'd had a Dag Hammarskjöld heading the United Nations it might have been different, but with Burmese U Thant as secretary general things went from bad to worse in the Near East and on Monday the shooting started.

Thant helped trigger the war by hasty acquiescence in withdrawing the United Nations forces in Egypt on its border with Israel when Egypt's Nasser asked him to withdraw them.

The multi-nation U. N. border guard had been there since the Suez War of 1956 and there had also been a U. N. guard on the heights at the entry to the Gulf of Aqaba. With the U. N. forces gone, Nasser proclaimed a blockade of the gulf which gives Israel marine access to Asia and East Africa.

This access is Israel's lifeline, since Nasser has closed the Suez Canal to her shipping since 1949 and she was not going to stand by while Nasser by bluster and the United Nations by inaction cut off her commerce in the eastern oceans.

Israel has been a troubled nation, of course, since her creation after World War II as a homeland for the Jews. She is surrounded by Arab nations and they're not friendly. She has an army which can whip all the Arab forces combined, but the Arabs are a numerous people in strategic Middle East position at the crossroads of the world and they have friends like Soviet Russia who like to fish in troubled waters like the Egyptian-Israeli war, where they can make more mischief for the United States as a friend of Israel, obliquely.

Nasser, apparently thinking that with the U. S. occupied in Vietnam the time to make more trouble for Israel was ripe, set in motion forces which finally couldn't be controlled, frightened Israel into desperation, and the shooting started. When the U. N. force moved out of Egypt the Egyptians and Israelis faced each other in arms for the first time in 10 years.

The Arab nations have never acknowledged the right of Israel to exist and both sides have engaged in border terrorism which has now erupted into war, Israel deciding to fight rather than be strangled by Nasser by blockade of Aqaba and other pressures for extinction.

The war is a threat to world peace because of the big brothers of the combatants. President Johnson has declared the blockade at Aqaba an illegal act. Russia has moved fleet units into the Eastern Mediterranean, where our 6th Fleet is deployed.

Russia doesn't want war with the United States any more than we do, but it's willing to try some brinkmanship to impress the Arab nations that they had best follow its leadership. Russia and the United States are nuclear powers. Egypt, Syria and Jordan and the rest of the Arab nations are not.

The United Nations Council has become a sounding board for national interest, with little muster of international will to act against aggression. A Russian veto can kill action in the U. N. Council and with so many Soviet Bloc nations in the U. N. Assembly the chance of effective action there isn't bright. France has washed its hands of involvement, as it did in Vietnam.

The United Nations has made progress in international cooperation in other fields than peacekeeping, but it has partially failed in this business because of communism and nationalism. The nations have been taking their problems to the vetoless General Assembly to escape Russia's vetoes, but there are limits to this process and the U. N. inability to muster effective world opinion to prevent war shows the difficulty of contending with national ambition. The greatest deterrent to a world war is the huge nuclear arsenals of the United States and Russia. The world would be a shambles after a nuclear war; with no victors, only some survivors, and this frightfulness may help eventually to crack the cynicism of so many nations today about peacekeeping.

Keweenaw's Stamp Sands Become Forestry Labs

HOUGHTON — Attempting to make trees grow in sterile black sand is a questionable activity at best, but in at least one case it may turn out to be economical as well as aesthetically beneficial. That one case is a project undertaken by Michigan Tech's forestry department to vegetate a stamp sand area.

Dr. Paul Johnson, an assistant professor of forestry at Tech and director of the project, said the immediate objective is to stabilize the area. "We started," he said, "in cooperation with the Quincy Mining Co. Their lakeshore land near Mason, Mich., is covered with this stamp sand and we were asked to find a way to keep it from blowing all over. If we're successful, we not only save the expense of maintaining the surrounding property, but we'll also eliminate a high-way hazard caused by the blowing sand."

A more distant benefit of the project's success would be turning a waste land into beautiful lakeshore property and so contribute to the beauty of the entire area. Since there are about 1,200 acres of stamp sand in Houghton and Keweenaw counties, success of this effort could open the door to similar attempts at other areas. Stamp sand is a mineral material left after rock has gone through reprocessing for copper ore.

Last year jack pine, red pine and white spruce were planted in "control plots" with no effort to keep them alive artificially. They all died in a short time. This year scotch pine, black locust and northern white cedar are being planted.

First the plants are potted in milk cartons, using a concentrated plant food, and then put into the sand. These cartons prevent salt in the sand from inhibiting plant growth and provide food containers for initial growth. "Eventually," Dr. Johnson said, "we hope roots will grow through holes in the bottom of the cartons and take hold on their own. By this time, the cartons will have deteriorated enough so they will not restrict growth of the trees."

Dr. Johnson said there are some encouraging signs. Northern white cedar, for example, has seeded into the area voluntarily and has survived. "There are also several other tree species and some quack grass which voluntarily established themselves there," he stated. Since nitrogen is absent from this sand, a plant must either be given nitrogen artificially or have the potential capacity to extract it from the air in order to survive.

Besides helping a local industry, Dr. Johnson said this project provides a good outdoor laboratory for students to study factors which limit tree growth. "It also gives us the opportunity to look for economical methods of vegetating land hostile to normal plant growth," he maintained.

Preliminary indications of the project's success or failure will be available within one year but it will be at least 10 years before any effects of the planting are obvious. "In about 30 years," Dr. Johnson stated, "there should be significant changes in the whole area."

Voting Wins Rights

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some Negro leaders believe demonstrations, riots and protest marches will do little from here on out to further Negro aims.

These men favor quiet, steady precinct work and the ballot-getting Negroes registered and to the polls, electing Negroes and favorable white officials.

These politically oriented Negroes note that Negro registration is low in many places where barriers to Negro registration are weak or nonexistent.

"We don't need a majority," one of these Negro leaders said to this reporter. "When we have 10 per cent of the vote in some places, 20 per cent in others, the candidates come to us, seek our support. When they do, they listen to what we have to say."

This group of Negro politicians believes the political gains must be won first on the local level—that is, in cities and states.

In 1960 in the entire United States, there were six Negro state senators. Today there are 31.

Seven years ago there were 30 Negro state representatives. Today there are 123.

In the 27 states where the Negroes have made a breakthrough in state legislatures, they account for 4 per cent of lower house members and 4.3 per cent of the senators. In these 27 states, Negroes are 10.5 per cent of the population.

The major Negro gains have been made in the cities where their voting strength is already considerable. Negroes account for a fourth to a third of the population in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Detroit, St. Louis, Newark, Baltimore and Chicago. Negroes are estimated to outnumber whites in Washington, D. C. (where there is no local voting) and account for 14 per cent of the population of New York City.

Recent estimates indicate that by the year 2000, Negroes will total half or more of the populations of Baltimore, Chicago, New York City, Philadelphia, Detroit and St. Louis. For roughly two-thirds of the population of Cleveland and Newark and for three-fourths of the population of Washington, D. C.

Heavy registrations in these cities can be expected to mean more than a strong voice in local government.

The quiet Negro politicians believe voting majorities in these crucial cities, historically important in national elections, would mean congressional, Senate and presidential candidates would devote much more time listening to Negro hopes.

These theories depend on a hefty building up of the Negro vote. The Negro politicians say that demonstrations, up to a point, may be useful in getting Negroes interested in voting. After that point, these politicians say, demonstrations convince some that direct action is the only way to progress and that voting is a waste of time. Demonstrations convince other Negroes that they should shy away from all activity—stay out of things entirely.

Therefore, some of these politically oriented Negroes are carefully and behind the scenes attempting to cool down the prospects for the long hot summer their more violent colleagues are predicting.

In our recent discussion of "Bridge for Women" we mentioned that female bridge experts are more apt to play hunches than their male counterparts.

We also pointed out that women's hunches are likely to be more good common sense than psychic.

As an example, take this hand played by Jan Stone of New York. East won the heart lead with his king and returned the seven spot. Jan thought awhile and played a low heart. West won with the eight, cashed his heart ace and led a spade. Jan won in her own hand and lost the diamond finesse to East's king but all East could do was to lead a heart to Jan's queen, whereupon Jan took the rest of the tricks.

East asked Jan how she figured out the low heart play at trick two. "Just a hunch," replied Jan.

Later on she explained that it wasn't really a hunch. She realized that if West had led from jack - eight - two her low play would lose and the queen play would win, and that if West had led from eight-five-two then the ten play would be the only winner but Jan went on: "I had played against this East before. He always false-carded against me, so if he had started with ace-king or ace-king-jack he would automatically have played the ace at trick one. There was no point in revealing this to him. I would rather that he kept on treating me like a simple player. It is so much easier to play against him on that basis."

Jan's logic was flawless. If your opponents will be kind enough to underestimate you, they are also going to lose to you.

It also reminds us of a remark made by Mary Clement, one of the great bridge players of the thirties. She had just executed a three - suit squeeze and asked her victim, "Was that actually a squeeze? I never know."

Ann Landers

If In Doubt, See Your Family Doctor

Dear Ann Landers: Let me begin by saying I am a 14-year-old girl and I don't know anything about the subject I am writing about. I mean venereal disease. I only know what I have read in magazines, and that's not much.

Can a person get V.D. from kissing someone who has a sore on his lip? Can a person get V.D. from the member of the same sex or does it have to be from a member of the opposite sex? For example, could I get V.D. from kissing my aunt?

How can a person tell if he has V.D. without going to a doctor? Where would a teenager go for treatment if he didn't want his parents to know?

Please give me some information. I feel very ignorant and I can't talk to any adult about this. The kids in my crowd don't know any more than I do and they'd like some information, too. Thanks for your help. — CURIOUS AND NEEDING ANSWERS

Dear Curious: First, it is possible to get V.D. from a person (male or female) who has a sore on the lip, but most people do not get it that way. The sore that spreads V.D. is an active chancre, which means the person with the sore has V.D. It is never a good idea to kiss anyone who has an eruption of any kind. Even if it isn't V.D. you don't need it, whatever it is.

It is risky business to try to diagnose your own illness so I will not describe V.D. symptoms. If there is any question in your mind, go to your family doctor. He will in all probability treat you and not tell your parents. Or go to the City or County Health Department where they will be happy to treat you free of charge and not snitch if you ask them not to. (This is the way it is in Chicago and in most other cities.)

And while we are on the subject I would like to urge all teen-agers to cooperate fully with the health officials when they ask you to name your friends. This is not rat-finking. It is your duty to tell the health officer where you have been and with whom. The ONLY way to eradicate V.D. is to track down the sources of infection and everyone who can, should help.

Dear Ann Landers: I am the mother of two small children. We recently moved to a new house which I love, but staying home seven days and seven nights a week, 24 hours a day is driving me buggy.

On weekends when my husband is home and my children are napping I have asked him for permission to go next door for a cup of coffee with my neighbors. He says it is not necessary — that a woman should not be gadding about, that her place is in the home.

My husband leaves at 8:00 a.m. and returns at 6:00 p.m. He bowls two nights a week. I feel it is only fair that I get out once in a while. If I am wrong, please tell me. If he is wrong, please tell HIM. — TIED DOWN

Dear Tied: He didn't write, so I am not going to tell him anything. But I am going to tell you to find a sitter and go with him on one of the bowling nights, even if just to sit and observe. Or join a sewing circle, or a church group or a book review club — something that will provide intellectual stimulation and a change of scenery. And don't say you can't afford a sitter. It's cheaper than a psychiatrist.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. © 1967, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate

Car Ferry To Manistique:

Historian Describes Broken Link To U.P.

Robert E. Burton, writing in the Spring 1967 issue of Michigan History tells the story of "Car Ferry From Northport: Broken Link to the Upper Peninsula." Burton is head of the "Science and Technology Libraries, University of Michigan, Michigan History is published by the Michigan Historical Commission, Lansing. A condensation of Burton's article is presented.

By 1900 the railroad system in Michigan had assumed its present shape. The most important system in the state was, of course, the New York Central, which controlled the Michigan Central and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern.

The sixth line of importance in 1900 was the Ann Arbor Railroad, which opened a line which ran diagonally across the state from Toledo, Ohio, to Frankfort, Mich. The track itself was of little importance, except for its connections with every other railroad of importance in the state. The Ann Arbor lived primarily on the revenues generated by its car ferry service west and north across Lake Michigan.

The first true lake service on Lake Michigan was inaugurated in 1892 by the Ann Arbor Railroad from its slip on Bestie Lake at Frankfort across the lake to Kwaunee, Wis. The operation proved a success, giving the Ann Arbor access to a lumbering and mining region.

The Shorter Route
The water routes were extended to Menominee (1894),

Gladstone and Escanaba (1895), Manitowoc (1896), and to Manistique for winter service only (1898).

The officials of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad must have looked with some envy on the success of the Ann Arbor's operations. They needed a port in the Upper Peninsula which was close to the lumbering and mining regions; and a port in the Lower Peninsula which would make the five years, the road was sold and christened the Manistique, Marquette & Northern and plans were made to institute the ferry operation. The contract for the construction of the "Manistique, Marquette & Northern No. 1" was let almost immediately and she was launched in December, 1902.

Car ferry service between Northport and Manistique began in October, 1903. It was a 75-mile run. The service got off to an inauspicious start. One month after service began the company defaulted on an interest payment but the service continued while some way was sought out of the financial difficulty.

Sank And Railed
The trustee for the bonds concluded an agreement with the Pere Marquette which gave that line control and the "Manistique" was diverted from Northport to Ludington. Service was continued to Manistique, an extremely long run of 140 miles and almost certain to be an economic failure in the face of the Ann Arbor Railroad competition. The Pere Marquette lost on the operation. Later the "Manistique" resumed the run to Northport and continued while the operation was in receivership.

Under the new management the company managed to show a profit in 1907-08. Service seems to have been quite regular with a real effort made to attract passengers as well as railroad cars. Three round trips were made each week. The passenger fares appear to have been reasonable: One-way $2.50, round trip $4.50. Meals cost 50 cents and berths 75 cents.

The death knell of the MM&N was sounded when the "Manistique" sank at Manistique after suffering ice damage on Jan. 5, 1908. She was raised and sent to South Chicago for repairs. She was out of service for several months and the company chartered the "Ann Arbor No. 1" to make the run.

All Hands Lost
A new company was formed and the "Manistique" was sold to the Grand Trunk Milwaukee Carferry Co. She was renamed the "Milwaukee" and served well on her new run until she was lost with all hands off Milwaukee on Oct. 22, 1929—the greatest single disaster to befall a Great Lakes carferry. The railroad north from Manistique was sold to a new company, the Manistique and

THE MANISTIQUE WAS the "short route" carferry link between Manistique and Northport about 1905. The vessel was sold after service halted in 1908, was renamed the "Milwaukee" and sank with all hands lost in Lake Michigan on Oct. 22, 1929.

Ann Arbor Asks To End Carferry And Rail Service

Another "link" to the U.P. will be broken if the Ann Arbor Railroad's petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission is approved to abandon operation of the carferry and railroad.

The Ann Arbor has operated the carferry between Manistique and Frankfort since 1901, and acquired the Manistique and Lake Superior Railroad in 1909.

Traffic has declined "almost to the vanishing point," Ann Arbor officials said.

a shorter route than that of the Ann Arbor.

They chose Northport near Traverse City for the southern terminus, although it had no rail connection as yet. They also needed a railroad out of Manistique. They purchased an existing road which had the needed facilities and which gave them access to the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie, and to the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic.

On Aug. 1, 1897, the first stretch of track from South Manistique to Shingleton was opened, providing a connection with the D.S.S.&A. A short branch from Steuben to McNeill's Camp was opened in December, 1897. The total main line amounted to a little over 35 miles, and no more significant track was to be laid.

Run Was 75 Miles

During the approximately five years the line was operated (August 1897, May 1902) it hauled nearly a million and a quarter tons of logs. The lumber road was a very profitable operation. The stockholders received, over the five years, $2.35 for every $1 invested.

In May, 1902, at the end of

Jews Rally To Support Israel

NEW YORK (AP) — Jewish communities throughout the nation quickly rallied to Israel's side as fighting broke out in the Middle East. Volunteers offered to fight. Students packed to go help harvest crops and thousands more gave money.

American Jewish leaders called Monday for all Jews to take trains, planes or buses to Washington for a rally in support of Israel Thursday in Lafayette Park, across from the White House.

No similar plans were announced by the American Arab community which is less numerous and less well organized. One religious leader pointed out that there are no organizations of Arabic-speaking persons that cross religious or national lines.

Therefore, said Father Joe Shreeen of St. George's Syrian Orthodox church, Indianapolis, unlike the Jews, the Arabic peoples have no over-all spokesmen or movements.

At Brandeis University near Boston, student volunteers announced they would go to Israel to help harvest that nation's food crop in place of army volunteers serving at the front.

More than 70 student applications to go were received and 100 more were expected. University officials said loans would be made available to the students to finance the round-trip air fare to Israel.

An Israeli official in Atlanta, Ga., said a "fantastic number" of people from all over the Southeast had telephoned his office and volunteered to fight.

But, said Director of Tourism, Amnon Gil-Ad, the consul general's office was turning down the offers. "We don't want any of them to go to Israel to fight," he said. "This is our fight."

Dr. Joseph J. Schwartz, vice president of the Israel Bond organization, said in New York that during the last 10 days more than $13 million worth of the bonds had been sold in 50 American cities.

Delta County Parks Ready For Summertime Visitors

By CLINT DUNATHAN
There's a world of summertime fun in Delta County Parks, now improved and readied for an increasing number of visitors in 1967.

There are six of the county parks, administered by the Delta County Road Commission, and they have a total of about 450 acres — not all developed, of course — that is set aside for the enjoyment of the public.

Most people know about Pioneer Trail Park, with 98 acres located along the Escanaba River between Escanaba and Gladstone. That's the popular one, often over-crowded on weekends in the summertime, and that's also why it is necessary for large groups to call the Road Commission office to make reservations for Sunday use during the summer months.

Pioneer Trail Park has four new campsites, bringing the total to 56, and a new gravel road has been extended along the river around the camping area. At the picnic grounds a new steel flagpole replaces the wooden one that blew down recently.

Has Many Campers

Kenneth Anderson and Robert Schmeling are the rangers at Pioneer Trail Park this season, and they will be the ones who will be on hand to greet the estimated 8,000 or more persons who will camp at Pioneer Trail before the season ends. Last year an estimated 2,700 camping units, estimated at three persons per unit (or a total of 8,100 persons) were accommodated at Pioneer Trail.

They paid $2 per night for the camping privilege at the camping ground beneath the big trees, where the facilities include electricity, hot and cold water, flush toilets, wood, and a table and stove at each assigned camp site.

On the up-river side of Pioneer Trail Park there's a new historical marker, registered with the Michigan Historical RAPID RIVER FALLS PARK has this delightful scene of cool waters tumbling over the rocky river bottom, enjoyed by three children who were members of a family picnic party. Commission, that tells the story of the Escanaba River settlement. The Escanaba Daily Press financed the purchase of the marker with a gift to the Delta County Historical Society.

Develop Beach Area

A roadway at the north boundary of Pioneer Trail is being extended westward up-river toward the Mead Corp's Escanaba Division paper plant. It is an access road for the industry, not a parkway.

Fuller Park, located about 15 miles south of Escanaba on M 35, has about 93 acres extending from the highway eastward to the bay shore along the south side of the Bark River. The park area was a gift to Delta County as a memorial to the late O. B. Fuller, Ford River native, who served as auditor general of Michigan.

The beach area of Fuller Park has been improved with the addition of a new drilled well and two sanitary toilets of the type approved by the U. S. Forest Service. Further development is planned as funds become available.

Sack Bay Park

Rapid River Falls Park is located just off U. S. 41 about seven miles north of Rapid River, where the river descends in a series of cascades over the rocks. There is a pleasant picnic ground and a total 40-acre recreation area.

Sack Bay Park has 63 acres on a sandy bay near the south end of the Garden Peninsula. Sanitary toilets of the approved USFS type, plus tables, stoves, and clean water — combined with a fine swimming beach and beautiful shore scenery — make it an ideal summertime play spot.

Other county parks are at Brampton, where only a small piece of land is left after M 35 was relocated and improved; and the Fish Dam Park at the head of Big Bay de Noc. The latter has 165 acres — largest of any county park — but it is not developed. The so-called park at Brampton is also undeveloped and has only a few acres.

Heavy Turnout In Macomb

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A heavy voter turnout for a special election was reported by both candidates today in balloting which could have a decisive effect on Gov. George Romney's tax reform program.

Both parties have indicated the race was wide open, but Democrats said they thought a heavy turnout would favor them.

Election officials earlier had predicted a very tight turnout. Republican David Serotkin, a Mount Clemens attorney, is running against former Democratic Rep. Victor Stech in the 75th House District.

A victory for Serotkin will give the GOP a two-vote majority in the house at a time when they are trying to push a tax reform package past objecting Democrats.

A Stech triumph will mean a 55-55 deadlock.

Two Sentenced In Barka Kidnaping

PARIS (AP) — Two men were sentenced to prison Monday for the kidnaping of Moroccan opposition leader Medhi Ben Barka. Five others were acquitted, and six were sentenced in absentia to life imprisonment.

Ben Barka was grabbed on a Left Bank sidewalk Oct. 29, 1965. There has been no trace of him since and he is presumed dead.

College Program, Financing Plans Told To Kiwanis

The concept of a community college in Delta County dates back to the 1950's, said Arol Beck, a member of the Board of trustees of Bay de Noc Community College in a talk to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club on Monday.

Beck said the delay in creating the college was caused by the difficulty in getting off the ground with the small tax base provided by a comparatively small community. In November of 1962, however, by a vote of the people, the college was created, and it was formally opened in the fall of 1963.

Rapid growth, which exceeded first expectations, has created a need for additional space, Beck said. The college has used basically an open door policy, taking in all students and offering a two year transfer program.

Joseph Heirman, president of the governing board at the College, described the aims in the millage issue that will be placed before the voters on June 26.

Heirman said that at the present time, 1 mill of tax is levied for the college. The new tax that is being asked is an additional 2 mills, to be used as follows: 1 1/2 of a mill for operating, and 1/2 mills for capital outlay.

The 1 1/2 mill will join the present 1 mill as an indefinite item, while the 1 1/2 mills will remain in effect for 10 years, Heirman continued. Ten years will provide enough local money, matched by state and federal funds for the $2 million building fund, to construct buildings for 1,000 students.

The need is apparent at this time, for the shortage of space would force night classes until 10 p.m. for four nights of the week, and also additional classes on Saturday morning, Heirman said. The present building which has been remodeled extensively will not be abandoned for the present site. Heirman continued. The proposed building program will take from five to seven years, and the present building will remain in use for some time after.

The expansion program will not only accommodate more students but will make it possible to expand the curriculum, Heirman said.

Stolen

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — A Picasso painting valued at $224,000, "La Belle Hollandaise," was stolen from an art gallery in Brisbane Monday night. It was the most valuable painting in Queensland State.

Police said the thieves apparently forced open a window of the gallery.

The painting was insured for $156,800.

Leaves Soon For Vietnam

Rodney J. Chapla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Chapla, Escanaba Rte. 1 was recently promoted to specialist 4th class.

He was presented with the Commanding General's Award of Merit at Fort Monmouth "in recognition of professional service, technical competence, standing loyalty and dedication to student needs while serving with the U. S. Army Signal Center and school at Fort Monmouth, N.J., as a qualified instructor during the period 25 April 1966 through 15 May 1967."

After a 30 day leave Sp. 4 Chapla will go to Fort Lewis, Wash., and leave for Vietnam June 26.

He is married to the former Joanne Derouin, daughter of Mrs. Marcella Derouin of Escanaba. Mrs. Chapla, who accompanied her husband to Fort Monmouth, N.J., the past year will remain in Escanaba during his tour of duty in Vietnam.

Wanton Action Charged In Cedarville's Deaths

CLEVELAND (AP) — The U. S. Steel Corp. and Capt. Martin Joppich, master of the Cedarville, came under attack in U. S. District Court Monday as hearings opened to determine whether punitive damages will be assessed against the steel firm.

The Cedarville, owned by U. S. Steel, sank with a loss of 10 lives in May, 1965, after a collision with the Norwegian motor vessel Topdalsfjord in the Straits of Mackinac.

Leading off the damage suits by 31 claimants, Philadelphia attorney Abraham Freedman said both U. S. Steel and Captain Joppich showed "reckless and wanton" disregard for the lives of the Cedarville crew.

"Captain Joppich made a headlong dash to beach the vessel, knowing he was imperiling the lives of the crew," Freedman said. "U. S. Steel was made aware of this within two minutes and would not lift a finger to help."

Last week, before U. S. District Judge James C. Connell, both U. S. Steel and Den Norske Amerikalinje, owner of the Topdalsfjord, admitted liability for compensatory damages in the sinking. These damages amount to about $10.5 million and Judge Connell is to appoint a U. S. commissioner to hear claims for the compensatory damages.

But U. S. Steel is fighting punitive damage claims made against the Cedarville. Similar damage claims were dropped against the Topdalsfjord.

The punitive damage claims also amount to about $10.5 million, Freedman said.

Laying the basis for the punitive claims, Freedman said U. S. Steel had:

—Entrusted the safety of the crew to a "reckless, incompetent master."

—failed to provide watertight bulkheads — meaning "instant doom" in any collision.

—dangerously overloaded the ship to get as much cargo as possible.

—failed to replace plates in a 38-year-old hull, "putting the value of the dollar over human life."

—Failed to get the crew off the ship after the collision.

Freedman said men were not ordered out of the engine room even when the decks were awash.

A U. S. Coast Guard inquiry into the sinking closed officially early last March.

Girl Scouts To Camp July 10-14

The Delta County Girl Scouts will have Day Camp the week of July 10-14 on the up-river side of Pioneer Trail Park. The camp will be in session from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. and girls will be home each night unless an over-night is scheduled.

Registration cards may be picked up each afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. to June 14 at: The Girl Scout office, 707 Ludington St. (upstairs); in North Delta — Mrs. Roger Johnson, 912 Montana Ave., GA 5-4773; Soo Hill area, Mrs. Emerson Gage, (near the nursery) ST 6-3323. The deadline for registrations is June 30, and they will be accepted on a first come first serve basis. Girls may only register for the full session.

Parents are responsible for getting the children to and from the camp site. Car pools could be formed.

The standard health examination form will be given to the girls when they return their registration cards and must be completed and signed by the physician of their choice. Tetanus shots may be obtained at the Delta County Health Department on Fridays from 2 to 4 p.m. The fully completed health card must be taken to camp the first day or the girls will be unable to attend.

A certified day camp director has been hired and will train the staff to meet the Girl Scout standards. All Girl Scout standards for health, safety and site will be observed.

A primitive camping session will be offered for experienced campers. The camping session is open to the four age levels in Girl Scouting.

The camp activities will include out-door cooking, hiking, nature craft and camp craft. The first day will be a nose bag lunch with only milk provided at camp.

Holstein Heifers Offered By Prison

Farmers who wish to purchase registered Holstein dairy animals from the Marquette State Prison's herd will have a chance to do so when eight heifers will be offered for sale on a sealed bid basis.

Animals offered may be examined at the prison dairy barn, by contacting Doug Turini, farm Superintendent or Paul Johnson, dairy superintendent.

Sealed bids must be submitted to Dale Schmidman, business manager, prior to June 14.

Mrs. Michael Venne (Lee's Studio)

Joan A. Kolich Bride Of Michael P. Venne

St. Joseph Church in Escanaba, its altars adorned with vases of pink and white gladiolus and mums, was the setting Saturday, May 27 for the wedding of Miss Joan Ann Kolich and Michael Peter Venne.

Officiating at the double ring nuptials at 12 noon was Rev. Isidor Walter, O.F.M. Traditional music was sung by St. Joseph Choir.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Kolich of 1415 8th Ave. S. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Venne Sr. of 326 S. 6th St.

Organza, Lace
The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rudolph Kolich, chose a traditional floor length gown of white organza and Venice lace styled in the Empire line and fashioned with elbow length sleeves, and a modified scoop neckline. Her full chapel train was attached at the back shoulders.

Her headpiece, a flowerette of Venice lace trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent, secured her bouffant veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of feathered carnations and ivy centered with a single white orchid.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Robert Paterick of Milwaukee and bridesmaids were Mrs. Stanley Venne Jr., sister-in-law of the bridegroom and Miss Elizabeth Rogers of Milwaukee.

Cherry Blossom Pink
They were attired in floor length gowns of cherry blossom pink nylon sheer crepe fashioned with bodices of cluny lace, elbow length sleeves and modified scoop necklines.

Matching headpieces completed their attire and they carried clusters of pink variegated carnations forming single curved stems.

The miniature bride was Judith Paterick of Milwaukee, niece of the bride.

Serving as bestman for his brother was Stanley R. Venne Jr. and groomsmen were George Kolich, brother of the bride and Arnold Henriksen. Seating the guests were John LaBranche and William Goodreau.

Mrs. Kolich selected for her daughter's wedding an aqua lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Venne chose a pink lace dress with matching accessories and both mothers were presented corsages of pink carnations and roses.

Retreat Club Will Hold Final Meet

The Marygrove Retreat Club will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the St. Joseph Clubrooms. This is the final meeting of the season.

Following the meeting cards of the player's choice will be enjoyed with a prize for each table. Guest prizes will be awarded. Lunch will be served and chairman for the evening is Mrs. Stanley Lundquist.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I've found a good way to help keep my yard clean.

By placing large clay flower pots in different areas around the yard, my children have a place to throw their candy wrappers, popsicle sticks, etc. Also, I put small weeds in these pots and I pluck them from my flower borders.

I bought some nicely decorated ones with an oriental design. They look most attractive, and, as they are so handy, my children are good about using them.

Nan Gerber

Thanks, Nan, for this cute idea. It's a dilly. The more we teach our children to keep things clean, the less work for Mother.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER
Dear Heloise:

Have you any hints on saving ironing time?

I have a barrel of unironed clothes in the store room and its now running over.

When I put clothes (sprinkled for ironing) in the refrigerator my husband explodes.

Mother of Six

Dear Heloise:
I have two very helpful hints for mother with young babies.

When you tie your baby in the high chair with a diaper ... instead of tying the diaper around his chest or stomach, put it between his legs so that the diaper is on top of one leg and under the other. Then tie it in back of the chair.

This keeps the child from slipping down.

Dear Heloise:
I put cup hooks on the side molding of every window about two feet from the top to catch my draw drapes cords. The draperies cover the hooks, and I no longer have to fumble in the drapes for the cords.

Picnic Foods High Risk For Poisoning

EAST LANSING — Warm weather means more eating out-of-doors. And the combination increases the chances of food poisoning.

Mrs. Anita Dean, foods specialist with the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, says germs that can cause gastro-intestinal upsets thrive in picnic foods that haven't been properly refrigerated.

She continued, "The majority of food poisoning outbreaks are traceable to food mishandled in the home. One of the chief causes is a bacterium called Staphylococcus aureus, or 'staph.'"

The germ is found everywhere, the specialist pointed out. She listed skin, soil, dust particles, and sprays from coughs and sneezes as examples.

Once the bacteria invades opened foods under suitable conditions, it can multiply undetected and produce a poison. It's this poison that makes you sick. Once the poison is formed, cooking or cooling the food won't remove it. And it doesn't change the appearance or the taste of the foods.

"The trick is to keep the conditions unsuitable," Mrs. Dean stressed. "Three hours at temperatures between 40 degrees and 140 degrees will produce the poison."

Precautions:
Avoid high risk foods — ones that staph find particularly appealing. High risk foods include deviled eggs, cream-filled pastries or cakes, egg salad, cheese, cured and salted meats, and all cooked meats, casseroles and moist prepared foods. Make sure all these high risk foods are kept properly chilled, below 40 degrees, she advised.

Mrs. Dean pointed out that high risk foods are easy to remember ... they're usually the ones that humans like best. Keeping foods chilled or piping hot is the primary safe guard. Thoroughly chill such foods as fried chicken, baked ham or meat loaf before you put them in the picnic hamper or cooler. For hot service, heat them over a grill at the picnic grounds.

If reheating isn't possible, leave fried chicken in the pan you used for frying. Wrap the pan with its contents in several layers of newspapers or a blanket to insulate it.

"The pan is sterilized while you cook the chicken, so it is safer than transferring the chicken to another container. And the pan will already be hot," the specialist advised.

If you want cold fried chicken, it's still wise to leave it in the sterilized pan. Chill the chicken and the pan thoroughly, and again, wrap it in newspaper or a blanket, if the pan won't fit into your cooler.

Mrs. Dean advised that buying an insulated cooler is a wise investment for anyone who transports food frequently away from home.

Other Tips
Other tips she gave in preventing the possibilities of food poisoning included:

Don't handle foods if you've had any recent gastro upset or infection. And never use your hands to mix foods when clean, sanitized utensils can be used instead.

Wash your hands thoroughly, and often, even though you're using utensils to mix with. This is particularly important if you've handled raw foods and then intend to prepare sandwiches, salads and other foods that won't be cooked further before they're served, Mrs. Dean added.

Of course, keep insects and animals away from food during preparation and serving.

Remove cooked chicken from broth immediately for cooling before using it in salads, sandwiches, creamed dishes and casseroles. Be sure potatoes used in salads are cool before you add salad dressing.

Wrap sandwiches and other prepared foods carefully before packing into the picnic hamper. If cooler space is limited, refrigerate the meat or sandwich separately. Then make the sandwiches when you're ready to eat.

Don't prepare foods any sooner than you have to.

Some cooks like to add a little horseradish (from a bottle) to a blue cheese dressing. This combination may please the man in your house.

Church Outreach Urged

BOSTON — Christian Scientists gathered from around the world for the church's annual meeting Monday heard a call for sharply expanded outreach to the world and the community.
"Christ Jesus showed his deep involvement with the world of his day," The Christian Science Board of Directors reminded the audience.
Erwin D. Canham, editor in chief of the Christian Science Monitor and retiring president of the denomination, described a "period of unprecedented ferment in the world's religious thought." Each individual has a "mission in the marketplace of human thought and experience," he emphasized.
"For Christian Scientists, need and opportunity have never met more challengingly."
"Our mission is in the world," Canham said. "We must bring to hungering, yearning humanity the word and proof of spiritual food and healing. We must reach out as never before."
Mrs. Beatrice Thayer Pittman, who was elected president for the coming year, described Christian Scientists as "interested in good government, in righteous laws, in bettering the lot of all men. We are devoted to an adequate opportunity for everyone."

Mead Science Awards Made

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio — A biology essay by a Cincinnati high school junior, Glenna Frank, a junior at Regina High School, has earned her a $1,000 college scholarship, top prize in Mead Corp.'s high school science essay contest.
A second Cincinnati student, Paul Wehrman of Purcell High School, received a $100 cash award for the best physics essay in the national contest. First award in chemistry, $100, was presented to a Kingsport, Tenn. boy, Chris Brown of Holston High School.
All three prize-winning students, accompanied by their parents and high school science advisors, toured Mead's paper-making and research facilities.
Miss Frank's essay was a report of an original research study she had done on the identification of amino acids in the development of fruit flies. Earlier in the evening she had received a $100 cash award for the essay, judged best in the biology category.
George H. Pringle, president of Mead, presented the scholarship to Miss Frank for writing the best overall essay among the winners in each of the three categories. Several hundred essays in chemistry, physics and biology were submitted in 12 communities where Mead has papermills.
"I marvel at the scope and sophistication these young people display in their work," said Pringle. "Our science essay contest is designed to encourage more students to consider careers in science. In the process, we've gained a great deal of additional respect for the students in our communities... and for the teachers and school administrators who are doing so much to develop them."

"Two Coming"

Gotay Makes Most Of Trip To Majors

By The Associated Press
Joe Morgan and Julio Gotay are on two-week reserve tours, but Gotay, unlike Morgan, would like to see his stint stretch through September at least.

Morgan, the Houston Astros' second baseman, is on two-week Army Reserve training, and Gotay has been called up from Oklahoma City to fill in for him.

"They say I'm just up for two weeks," Gotay said Monday night, "but I don't want to go back down again."

If his performance in Houston's 5-2 victory over St. Louis is any indication of what his fill-in tour is going to be like, he might not. Gotay collected a double and two singles, drove in two runs and scored once.

In other National League games Monday night, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs trounced Philadelphia 13-3.

In the American League, Minnesota edged Cleveland 5-4, Detroit nipped Kansas City 2-1 in 11 innings, the New York Yankees topped Washington 4-2 and California trimmed Baltimore 3-2.

Gotay, a 27-year-old Puerto Rican who has been in and out of the major leagues in the past several years, has added incentive to make this stay in the big time an extended one.

"I got to go hard with the two coming," he said.

The "two coming" are the twins his wife has been told she can expect in August. The Gotays already have two children.

Gotay, hitless in his last 20 at bats at Oklahoma City, tied the game at 1-1 in the fifth inning by doubling home a run and then scored on a sacrifice fly in the same inning. His third hit drove in one of two runs in the sixth inning when the Astros clinched the victory which snapped a three-game losing streak.

Tony Cloninger started for Atlanta for the first time since April 26 when he was sidelined with an eye ailment.

The right-hander was touched for all four Los Angeles runs, the big blow being a two-run homer by Len Gabrielson in the second.

The Braves, losing their fifth straight, drove Los Angeles starter Claude Osteen to cover in the ninth when the first two men up—Rico Carty and Cleto Boyer—homered. Phil Regan came in to save the victory.

Manager Leo Durocher wasn't around to enjoy his Cubs' romp. Umpire Augie Donatelli thumbed Durocher in the third inning for arguing a strike call.

"I invited him for tea and he said he could make it," Durocher said when asked what he had said to Donatelli.

The Cubs started their own Tee Folly when Billy Williams hit a solo homer with two out in the fifth to break a 1-1 tie and spark a four-run surge.

Chicago came right back with four in the sixth. This outburst was capped by Ted Savage's pinch hit three-run homer.

Williams also homered in the eighth, and teammates Ron Santo and Ernie Banks connected in the ninth. Bill White hit his first homer of the season for the Phillies.

Barber Rejoins Baltimore Team

ANAHEIM (AP) — Pitcher Steve Barber, who walked away from the Baltimore Orioles Sunday, rejoined his teammates here Monday night and was fined an estimated $500 by Manager Hank Bauer.

Barber said he thinks like a lefthander. "I made a left-handed move," he said.

"I realize it was a mistake not asking Bauer for permission to visit my in-laws' farm in Twin Bluffs, Wis.," Barber said.

The 28-year-old lefthander, who has had considerable trouble with his control this season, said he had no complaints about Bauer's plans to demote him to the bullpen. He said he was anxious to determine the cause of his wildness. He has walked 48 batters in 46 innings this season.

Yanks Cash Another Big Dividend On Hurler Acquired From Dodgers

By The Associated Press
That Tilton looks like a better reward than money to the New York Yankees in payment for helping the Los Angeles Dodgers win the National League pennant last season.

The Yankees, who got the unheralded minor league pitcher and a bundle of cash from the Dodgers for Dick Schofield last September, cashed in another premium on the big right-hander Monday night.

Tilton, who barely made the roster in spring training, pitched the Yankees to a 4-2 victory over the Washington Senators, his third triumph without a loss in his first major league season.

At the same time, the Detroit Tigers were busy cashing in on catching coach Johnny Sain, a newcomer to the Tigers this season.

Dennis McLain, Tiger right-hander, threw credit toward Sain after throwing sliders by Kansas City for 11 innings as he beat Kansas City 3-2.

In the other American League games Cesar Tovar scored on a wild pitch with two out in the last of the ninth inning for Minnesota's 5-4 victory over Cleveland and reliever Bill Kelso's five shutout innings helped California post Baltimore 3-2.

Chicago and Boston were not scheduled.

In the only National League games, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 4-2, the Chicago Cubs clobbered Philadelphia 13-3 and Houston topped St. Louis 5-2.

Mickey Mantle made Tilton's victory possible with his 12th homer in the eighth inning that broke a 2-2 tie. A second run scored in the inning on a sacrifice fly.

Tom Tresh homered earlier with a man on for the deadlock after Mike Epstein made his debut for the Senators with a fluke inside-the-park homer with one on on a pop fly that bounded past Tresh.

McLain allowed only seven hits in his effort and one of the runs off him was unearned when Phil Roof tripled in the ninth inning and scored when Al Kaline bobbled the ball.

Jim Northrup singled and scored on Norm Cash's double for the winning run.

"My good control is back and my slider now is a weapon I have confidence in. I know I can battle the hitters with it," McLain said after evening his record at 6-6.

"Give Johnny Sain the credit. I didn't like the idea when he wanted to teach it (the slider) to me in the spring. Tonight it made all the difference. I threw it 15-20 times."

Steve Bailey's control was not as good for Cleveland. He made the wild pitch that got Tovar home after the reliever walked Tovar, who reached third on Rod Carew's safety.

Bob Allison homered earlier for the Twins and Tony Oliva pulled them into a 4-4 tie in the sixth inning after Fred Whitfield and Max Alvis hit solo shots for the Indians.

Kelso, 3-1, took over in the fifth inning for Nick Willhire, who left with a pulled muscle after giving up both Baltimore runs, one on a homer by Paul Blair.

The Angels led 3-2 at the time with three runs in the second inning as an infield out, a single by Jose Cardenal and a force out drove them home. Kelso allowed only one hit and a walk the rest of the way.

Blue Lewis Scores Kayo

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Alvin (Blue) Lewis, who chirps louder than Cassius Clay ever chattered, warmed up for a Detroit exhibition with the ousted heavyweight king with a crisp knockout Monday night of Aaron Eastling of St. Paul.

The unbeaten 217-pounder proclaimed his victory with an ear-drum-endering chirp and a shout at ringside hecklers. "How do you like that?"

"Hey Lewis, you still got him!" a fan hooted after Eastling landed a left in the fourth round. Lewis, a brute strength fighter frustrated most by his own footwork, promptly landed a thumping right and snapped back, "Yeah."

In the same round, a left hook propelled Eastling into a perpendicular position on the ropes. The end came with a wicked right uppercut in 1:16 of the fifth round.

Then came the chirps. "I've been doing that since I was a kid," said the 24-year-old Lewis, a veteran of 51 amateur fights, who turned professional 11 bouts ago. Seven of his 11 victories came by knockouts.

"I do that whenever I feel I'm going to knock someone out," he said of his birdlike calls.

Lewis doesn't expect to be chirping June 15 after he meets Clay.

"I'm going in there to learn," Lewis said. "But if he tries to hurt me, I'm going to try to hurt him. I'm not going to let him knock me out in front of all those people."

The exhibition will be Clay's first since he was stripped of his title for refusing to accept induction into the U.S. Army.

In a preliminary bout Monday, Vidal Flores of Milwaukee, a middleweight, dropped Bob Tucker of Grand Rapids, Mich., with a left hook in the third round and went on to win a six-round decision.

Eddie Brooks of Milwaukee, a heavyweight, knocked out Tyrone Parker of Grand Rapids in the third round of their scheduled six rounder.

Key Hit By Cash

McLain Wins Sixth, Credits Sain With New Hill Weapon

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Detroit's Denny McLain, a 20-game winner last year, sat in front of his locker, an ice bag on his right toe, savoring his sixth victory, a tough 3-2 decision over Kansas City in 11 innings.

"I've really hit my stride the last six times out," the 23-year-old right-hander said Monday night. "My good control is back and my slider now is a weapon I have confidence in. I know I can battle the hitters with it."

"Give Johnny Sain (Tiger pitching coach) the credit," McLain said. "I didn't like the idea when he wanted to teach it to me in the spring. Tonight it made all the difference. I threw it 15-20 times."

McLain explained he throws the slider "almost a three-quarter sidearm" while his fast ball and curve are thrown overhead.

"The toe is nothing to worry about, especially when you win," he said. Dick Green of the Athletics hit a vicious liner off the toe, but the ball caromed to Dick McAuliffe at second, who threw him out, for the first out of the 11th.

In the last of the ninth Green tripled and scored to tie it 2-2 when Al Kaline bobbled the ball in deep right-center.

"Green hit a slider away from him, a good pitch," McLain said.

The victory evened his record at 6-6, a familiar position this season for the young Chicago native. He hasn't been over .500. Only one A's run was earned, lowering McLain's season earned run average to 3.72. But he wasn't celebrating.

"They don't pay you for a good ERA—I know," McLain said with a smile. "In 1965 I had a 2.62 ERA, pitched real well and won 16, lost six, but that didn't do as much for my salary as winning 20 last year."

"I was more consistent and really pitched better in 1965 than last year," he said.

McLain reached the All-Star break with a dazzling 13-4 record, shut out the National League without a hit with just 28 pitches in three innings, then tailed off to 20-14 and 3.92.

"Don't write me off this season," he said. "I can still win 20—it's still early in June."

The Tigers won the contest when Norm Cash doubled home Jim Northrup in the 11th inning. Northrup had reached base a single.

The victory moved Detroit 1 1/2 games ahead of the second place Chicago White Sox who were idle.

Kansas City's first run crossed the first inning when Campy Campaneris singled, stole second for his 16th stolen base and ran home on Danny Cater's single.

The Tigers came back with an unearned run in the second. Bill Frechan doubled and scored as Campaneris committed a two-base error on Ray Oyler's grounder.

In the fourth, the A's loaded the bases with one out on successive doubles by Roger Repoz and Joe Nossok and Green's walk.

McLain then struck out Phil Roof and Diego Segui.

Joe Sparing takes his 5-0 record against Lew Krause, 3-7, and Dave Wickersham (3-0) faces John Odum (2-2) in a two-night doubleheader with the A's tonight.

Goalies To Go

Expansion Teams Begin Selecting Hockey Players

MONTREAL (AP)—Some old goalies fade away, but a couple of the oldest and finest—in the National Hockey League—were on their way to fresh starts in today's monumental expansion draft. . . . if they choose to make the trip.

Glenn Hall, Chicago's nine-time All-Star, figured to be one of the top prizes as the NHL stocked six new clubs with the two-day draft session in which 120 pros eventually will change addresses.

Coupled with the 35-year-old Hall in pre-draft speculation were Toronto's veteran tandem of Johnny Bowe, 42, and Terry Sawchuk, 37, one of whom most likely will be chosen on the first round.

terminated by lot, then reversed after the first round.

Following the goalie phase, the new teams drafted forwards and defensemen, with the hold-overs adding players to their protected rosters after the first and second rounds, then losing three more men. Thereafter the fill-and-claim system was carried to the conclusion of the draft.

Four of the expansion teams—Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Minnesota and St. Louis—announced the acquisition of minor league affiliates Monday.

The Los Angeles Kings bought the Springfield Indians of the American League from longtime owner Eddie Shore, getting 29 players in the bargain. Pittsburgh set up a working agreement with Baltimore of the AHL.

Minnesota and St. Louis will operate Central League clubs in Memphis and Kansas City, respectively.

Hudson Returns To Hawks, Inks New Cage Pact

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lou Hudson, saying he wanted to play in the prestigious National Basketball Association, has signed a 1967-68 contract with the St. Louis Hawks in another round of the battle for players between the established NBA and the fledgling American Basketball Association.

"I thought about coming back after talking with friends at my home in Greensboro, N.C.," Hudson said. "I called Mr. Kerner Sunday and talked about it and we agreed to terms Monday."

Earlier Hudson, who scored 1,471 points as a rookie with the Hawks, had signed a contract with the Minnesota Muskies of the American Basketball Association. The Hawks filed a $3 million damage suit against Hudson, the Minnesota team and the ABA as a result of that contract.

The St. Louis club withdrew the suit Monday before announcing that Hudson had signed his new contract.

Ben Kerner, owner of the Hawks and an elder statesman in the NBA, said, "I have never had a player jump to another league and I've been through three battles with new leagues."

He said he was pleased that Hudson decided to stay with the Hawks.

General Manager A. E. Holman of the Minnesota team said a call from The Associated Press there was the first he had heard of Hudson's action.

"We have a contract with him," Holman said.

Hudson said when his signing with the ABA club was announced that the offer was too good to turn down. Holman said he had received word earlier Monday that the law suit had been dismissed.

Coach Richie Guerin said Hudson's action was taken on his own initiative and he was glad to have the rookie back.

Hudson admitted that money was the reason he signed the Minnesota contract.

Epstein Hits Freak Homer For Senators

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Epstein finally got what he wanted—a chance to make his second major league debut—and he wound up getting something he didn't expect but which he'll take anyway—a 200-foot home run.

Epstein, the controversial rookie who struck baseball for 19 days after refusing to accept a demotion to the minors, started his first game for his new team, Washington, Monday night and while the Senators were losing to New York 4-2, he:

—Singled in his first time at bat.
—Was thrown out stealing.

—Dropped an easy pop fly for his first major league error.
—Hit a 200-foot shot for his first major league homer.

"It wasn't my first game, but it's a debut in that I'm getting a fresh new start," said the 24-year-old first baseman who was suspended after refusing the order of the Baltimore Orioles to go to their minor league team at Rochester.

Epstein, who was the minors' player of the year in 1966, wanted a chance to prove he belonged in the majors, and he got it when the Orioles traded him with pitcher Frank Bertina to the Senators for pitcher Pete Richert a week ago.

His start with the Senators not only was fresh but it also was a little bizarre—particularly the fourth-inning homer that carried only about 200 feet in the air before barely eluding the outstretched glove of left fielder Tom Tresh and then bouncing even more elusively along the left field fence.

"I thought it was going to be an out," the left-handed slugger said. "When I saw it drop in, I just turned it on. Eddie Yost, the third base coach, kept waving me around. I couldn't believe it."

"It was a big thrill even considering the kind of homer it was. I'll take them when I get them. I won't be stingy. I'll take another five or six of those."

"I'm not in good shape. I was out of breath when I crossed the plate. I was excited. The other players were excited about it too. I guess that was our high spot of the night."

Franklin's Harmonica

Benjamin Franklin in 1761—60 years before the mouth organ as we know it was invented—produced an instrument with treadle-rotated and self-tuned glasses which held different amounts of water and yielded different notes when sounded. He called it the harmonica, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—More showers and thunderstorms were forecast, so the start of the NAIA's College Baseball Tournament may be held up again.

Idle Columbus Skids Deeper

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Jets had the day off, but judging by the tumble they took in International League standings, one would have thought they dropped a doubleheader.

Things are so tight between third and seventh place teams in the well-balanced league this year that a team can fall two notches without lifting a baseball bat—which is just what happened to the Jets Monday, when only two games were played.

Richmond beat Rochester 5-0, and Syracuse cast a 12-2 shadow over the Jacksonville Suns. The results dropped Columbus from fifth to seventh place in 11 standing.

Warring Nations Aren't Industrial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Oil and agriculture are the economic backbones of the warring Middle East countries. All nations involved lack significant industry and have vast pocket economies compared with the United States.

U.S. officials say both Israel and Egypt are beginning to move toward an industrialized economy. But they've had to get their principal weapons—tanks and airplanes, for example—from the major powers.

They are incapable of switching automobile plants to tank production, for example, because neither has an auto manufacturing industry.

Area School Candidates Present Views To League

Residents of the Escanaba Area school district Monday got an opportunity for insight into the views of six active Board of Education candidates at a "Meet Your Candidates" forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Candidates participating in the program or sending prepared answers to League questions were:

Leo Alperovitz, 51, 208 S. 22nd St., business director of Bay de Noc Community College and former superintendent of schools at Hermansville;

William DeHaan, 31, 307 S. 3rd St., operator of Delta Real Estate and former employee with the Michigan Highway Dept.;

Richard L. Hanson, 36, Wells, carpenter and former director of activities for Bethany Lutheran Church;

Albin Pearson Jr., 47, 2525 1st Ave. S., general manager of Pearson Boiler & Manufacturing Co. of Escanaba; David Rivard, 23, 1412 Lake Shore Dr., serviceman for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., and Urban Steinmetz, 46, 201 S. 5th St., director of the Upper Peninsula Family Life Bureau Escanaba, and former teacher at Rapid River.

To Elect Two

The program was arranged by Lorraine Owen, Voter service chairman for the League.

Two members to the Area Board of Education will be elected at the annual school election Monday, June 12, replacing Kenneth Buckland and Dr. Vernon Johnson, whose terms have expired.

In last night's program, three questions were asked of each candidate in advance. The first question and excerpts from the prepared answers submitted by the candidates follow:

1. What is your philosophy of public school education and the role of the school board member?

Board's Role

Alperovitz — Briefly, the philosophy of public school education is to develop to the fullest the capabilities of each child . . . challenging the student to learn to the utmost of his abilities, interests and potentialities; The role of the school board member is defined in the school code, but he should have an abiding conviction that quality education is important, understand and accept the proper roll not to manage but to see that the institution is well managed, accept and understand that he must devote a substantial amount of time to the position, recognize the role of each board member, understand that the position cannot be used for personal gain, and have the daring to innovate to meet demands for the future.

DeHaan — I believe that every child has a right to receive the best education possible. The public schools are obligated to, as nearly as possible, suit the education to the varying needs of the particular students. It is the role of the school board member to work toward this end by establishing good, basic educational policies. Within these policies the school curriculum and cause to be taught appropriate subject matter by competent staff.

Develop Policy

Hanson — Education would seem to be the changes in behavior that are due to learning and the aim of public schools should be to equip us to live our social structure and contribute to it . . . I believe the role of the school board is to choose competent administrators for the school system and to appraise the administrative work to see that it is done competently and economically.

Pearson — In this modern, ever-changing, scientific age it is urgent that our public schools offer an educational program equal to the demands that challenge us . . . The responsibility of any school board member is the fully understand the changing needs in education and to . . . interpret the needs of the community and requirements of the professional organization, develop policies in accordance with the law and with the educational needs of the people, select executive personnel, keep the people intelligently informed of the purpose, values and needs of public education, and approve means by which professional agents and agencies may make policies effective;

School Life

Rivard — My philosophy of public school education in the role of the school board member is to give every student the finest and best education possible . . . Our world today is one of specialization. For a person to compete, he must have some type of ability . . . The responsibility of bringing out this ability belongs to the school system . . . In order to do this we must maintain high quality in teachers, equipment and facilities . . . If we fail to meet these responsibilities, we will be encouraging our young people to leave school before they are mentally ready to face the "world of work."

Steinmetz — I believe that the public school should attempt to develop all of the potential of every person educated within the system . . . The function of the school is to instill an eagerness and desire to learn . . . Good education depends on well-paid, professional administrative and teaching personnel who are dedicated to new knowledge and new and better ways of doing things. It is not the task of the school board member to rubber stamp the school administration.

Professional Staff

On the other hand, it is not his task to dictate to administration and attempt to initiate pet programs of his own . . . I believe it is possible to have well-paid professional people and excellent education and still operate within a reasonable budget, that good people are the most important component of good education . . . and only through constantly assessing what we are trying to do and what we have to do it with can we continue to provide good education.

The other two questions were:

2. What do you consider the most urgent need or greatest problem facing the school;

3. To what extent do you think the schools should become involved in the community recreation program for people of all ages?

(The Daily Press will print responses to the questions Wednesday and Thursday.)

Soviet Backs Arabs But Is For War End

was learned following a congressional briefing Monday that the administration had acknowledged surprise at the sudden outbreak of battle.

The U.S. position on launching of the attack gave policymakers more room for maneuver. For one of the U.S. commitments reaffirmed by Johnson during the crisis is that "the United States strongly opposes aggression by anyone in the area."

The Soviets, in a government statement issued in Moscow Monday night, promptly branded Israel as the aggressor and reaffirmed Kremlin backing of the Arab position.

Soviet Strategy

But the Moscow statement, according to preliminary analysis here, was in line with the past Soviet tactic of trying to reap maximum political propaganda advantage out of the crisis without committing Soviet military force.

The United States was keeping its potent Mediterranean 6th Fleet what the Pentagon said was several hundred miles away from the battlefield.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey set off something of a furor when he replied Monday at his daily briefing to a question about U.S. policy in the Arab-Israeli dispute: "We have tried to steer an even-handed course through this. Our position is neutral in thought, in word and deed."

U. S. Protests

The switchboards at the White House and State Department quickly lit up with calls from congressmen and others. Why, many asked, was the United States now abandoning what they termed its commitments to Israel and taking up neutrality?

Presidential press secretary George Christian went through a lengthy exchange with newsmen, neither backing up McCloskey's phrasing nor disavowing it. He kept referring back to Johnson's carefully phrased May 23 policy statement on the crisis.

Then Secretary of State Dean Rusk, interrupting a late afternoon session with the President, emerged to tell the White House press corps that the United States is not a belligerent in the Middle East war and therefore Americans in that area should not be treated as enemy aliens.

But while neutrality "is a great concept of international law," the secretary of state said, "it is not an expression of indifference."

Blockade "Illegal"

He said the United States cannot be indifferent because of its heavy peacekeeping responsibility on the U.N. Security Council. However he did not define the U.S. position as pro-Israeli or pro-Arab, nor would he repeat McCloskey's wording.

In his May 23 statement Johnson denounced Egypt's alleged blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, Israel's Red Sea outlet, as "illegal and potentially disastrous to the cause of peace" said he asserted "the right of free, innocent passage of the international waterway."

Johnson also said "what three presidents have said before — that the United States is firmly committed to the support of the political independence and territorial integrity of all the nations of the area."

Council Adopts Service Charge For Waste Water

Escanaba residents will find a new charge on their municipal utility bills in August — a service charge that will help the city meet the cost of disposing of sanitary sewage.

The charge will go into effect on July 1 and for most customers in the city it will show up on the bills they receive in August.

The City Council in special meeting adopted the waste water service charge ordinance Monday afternoon — subject to review at a meeting to be held June 10 and to an opinion from the city attorney.

Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe expressed a wish that action might be delayed by the council so that further study of the effect of the waste water charge might be determined. But the City Charter requires that rate ordinances be established on the first Monday in June.

No Objections

He said he had also hoped that all of the councilmen might be present. Councilmen Edward J. Cox and H. George Nelson could not attend yesterday's session. Present were Mayor Vanlerberghe and Councilmen George Rusch and Cecil Chase, providing the needed quorum.

Council had given first reading to the waste water and other rate ordinances at a prior meeting. Public hearing and adoption was set for the Monday afternoon meeting.

There were no objectors present, but Mayor Vanlerberghe said that he had received comments and questions that indicated concern about the effect of the service charge on waste water. Senior citizens told him they might have to give up their gardens because they could not afford to water them, and other comments were that people would not water lawns and flowers and the city's appearance would suffer, he reported.

Average Not High

There appeared to be misunderstanding, however, regarding the amount the average Escanaba resident will pay for waste water service, said City Manager George Harvey and Francis D'Amour, the superintendent of the water utility.

They pointed out that the waste water service charge is based upon a percentage of the water used by the customer, as shown on the water meter. The charge is based on 40 per cent of the total water used in the summertime and 60 per cent of the water used in the wintertime — or an average of 50 per cent for the year.

D'Amour said the average householder in Escanaba uses about 4,000 gallons of water monthly.

On this per family average, the water cost per month would be $1.32 and the service charge $1.30 or a total of $2.62 per month.

Fifty per cent of this total would represent the waste water service charge — or a total of $1.41 per year for the average family.

No Hardships

The waste water service charge is not figured on the total utility bill received from the city, it was emphasized. Much of the confusion is caused by this misapprehension, D'Amour believes.

NMU Students Stage Protest

MARQUETTE — Around 1,000 Northern Michigan University students staged a second demonstration in as many nights Monday night, this time entering the business district of Marquette.

On Sunday night the students demonstrated against what they described as poor food and inadequate housing.

Monday night about 500 students gathered after dark on the campus and began moving toward the city's business district.

The numbers increased rapidly as the march progressed southward. Chief of Police George G. Johnson said that by the time the group reached West Washington St., it numbered about 1,000.

After arriving in the business area the students moved into the middle of the block and many of them sat in the street, blocking traffic in that area for 20 to 25 minutes. They quieted down after Dr. Allan L. Niemi, dean of students at NMU, arrived and spoke to them.

After remaining in the downtown district for a half hour the students returned to the field house where they heard a talk by Dr. Edgar L. Harden, University president.
